David De Celis Selected for Mayor's Arts Task Force, City of Cambridge, MA.

Cambridge, MA, November 3, 2018

David De Celis, GSD class of 1998, has been selected to join the newly formed Mayor's Arts Task Force (MATF) in Cambridge, MA.

David looks forward to working together with fellow visual & performing arts community leaders, Councilor Mallon (Chair of the MATF), and other City staff/leaders, to ensure that Cambridge's arts community is supported, funded, and vibrant!

As a Hispanic, registered Architect, and father of three children in the Cambridge Public School System, David also hopes to contribute to the minority, professional, gender, and socio-economic diversity of the Task Force.

LOCATION / DATES:

The MATF will meet the 2nd Thursday of every month, from 5:30 – 7:30 pm, through June 2019.

ABOUT David T. De Celis:

David earned his B-Arch, with Honors, from the Univ. of Miami School of Architecture, along with a Minor in Theater Arts in 1994. He then attended Harvard's Graduate School of Design, received his M-Arch from Harvard in 1998, and started working with Boston architecture firms --most notably, Kallmann, McKinnell & Wood, and Bruner/Cott.

David is a founding Principal of DCM Design (1997) and DCVL Design (2016), two interdisciplinary firms that often collaborate. He is currently serving his 3rd year as Chair of the City's Public Art Commission.
